

Essential Work & Commute PPE for Covid-19 Protection

Preparing for Life After Lockdown.

With the government now relaxing the lockdown restrictions and businesses re-opening, it's time to start thinking about how to ensure that your staff are confident that they can commute to work safely, are still protected and you can adequately implement social distancing.

We are here to help you implement this with our new Covid-19 back to work PPE Essentials box which contains a range of products that will allow your staff easy access to the PPE they need to feel safe and protected.

A Covid-19 back to work PPE Essentials box is a simple, easy way to ensure your team feel safe and protected when they return to work. Just contact us today to place an order and we will deliver your box directly to you.
